

Innovative Solutions by MEEZA Take Center Stage at QITCOM 2014

Doha – Qatar, 10 June 2014 – As the strategic partner for QITCOM 2014, MEEZA, the leading IT services and solutions provider in Qatar, demonstrated a string of innovative solutions during the recently held event at the Qatar National Convention Centre on May 26-28.

At QITCOM 2014, MEEZA successfully showcased the capabilities and features of its three data centres called M-VAULTs as well as its Business Continuity and Disaster Recovery Services alongside the introduction of M-VAULT 2, located some 30 kilometres from the centre of Doha. The exhibition of these services was complemented by an insightful presentation delivered by MEEZA's Chief Technology Officer, Faisal Al Kuwari.

Further, MEEZA's Chief Alliance Officer, Fadi Nasser, outlined the company's capabilities and expertise in the creation of "Smart Cities", with an overarching aim to enhance the quality of life in future cities. Likewise, the capabilities of MEEZA's Security Operations Centre (SOC) took centre stage at the exhibition as the MEEZA SOC team performed a series of live hacking demonstrations, following a talk on Heartbleed and other IT security threats delivered by Chris Woods, MEEZA's Information Security Director.

"MEEZA takes great pride in supporting the Ministry of Information and Communications Technology (MICT) through its partnership with QITCOM 2014. We are continuously looking to develop our expertise to stay ahead and maintain our edge and position in the sector and to be able to support the rapid growth of the state. With our line-up of demonstrations at QITCOM 2014, we are delighted to bring attention to the significance of innovation and technologies in achieving the Qatar National Vision 2030," said Ghada Philip El Rassi, CEO, MEEZA.

Throughout the event, several live demonstrations were delivered at the MEEZA stand, which won the award for the best booth above 90 sqm by QITCOM.
