

As part of transforming the 67-year-old brand
MEEZA helps Qatar Post provide '21st Century' services via a comprehensive Managed IT services

Doha, October 4, 2017 – In the framework of reinventing the country's postal sector to provide '21st century' services to its citizens and businesses, MEEZA, Qatar's prominent end-to-end Managed IT Services & Solutions Provider, is helping Qatar Post substantially expand its capabilities through a Managed IT services for all its IT initiatives.

The partnership is coming into effect in tandem with Qatar Post's modernization drive and its recently revealed new visual identity.

Commenting on the occasion, Eng. Ahmad Mohamed Al-Kuwari, MEEZA's CEO, said:

"As a selected ICT partner of the Ministry of Transportation and Communication, MEEZA is delighted to be working with Qatar Post, which we consider as a key pillar of the country's development over the years, to help bring the postal company's digital infrastructure and its end-user services to the 21st Century. MEEZA has been working closely with the company to understand its ICT transformation objectives and the exact ways we can contribute to achieving their goals, in the framework of Qatar Post's new identity."

He added: "MEEZA intends to draw on its industry expertise and years-long of experience in supporting and implementing ICT-based projects for big corporations and renowned institutions in Qatar as well as the entire region, and we are confident that our partnership will bring about results that will exceed expectations and significantly improve the user experience as well as make internal processes more efficient."

On his part, Mr. Faleh Alnaemi, Qatar Post's Chairman and Managing Director, said:

"Since its inception more than six decades ago, Qatar Post's core mission has been to bring people closer together as well as bring the world to their doorstep in an efficient manner. However, the world has dramatically changed since then, and it is now time for us to bring our vision and the services we provide to customers and businesses to the 21st Century. Qatar Post's new visual identity holds the promise of a much faster, more connected and hands-on user experience to citizens, residents and companies in Qatar, in line with our core values of reliability, effectiveness, openness, modernity and excellence.”

He added: “MEEZA’s experience in Managed IT Services and its track-record of successful project and ventures in the field, makes it the right partner and one of the major driving forces behind bringing our vision to fruition, and we are thrilled to work together to bring fully reimaged world-class services to our users, as well as towards turning Qatar into one of the major logistical hubs between Asia and Europe.”

MEEZA’s announcement comes on the heels of Qatar Post confirming that its newly revealed visual identity marks the postal company’s complete service-overhaul, which includes single-counter services, a mobile application that tracks parcels and supports online payments, and a 25-branch renovation process, as well as Qatar’s first-of-its-kind logistics hub count on the site of the old Doha International Airport.

To make this possible, MEEZA will be providing Qatar Post with a sophisticated range of end-to-end Managed IT Services and Solutions that cover the company’s ICT Infrastructure, Security Services, Service Operations, Disaster Recovery, Call Center Operations, as well as a number of End User “Desktop-as-a-Service” features.
